

Assessment of applications

The judging panel will consider the following points when assessing applications:

1. Relevance of your project to the revival, maintenance or preservation of Queensland's Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander language/s:

How does the project contribute to the revival, maintenance or preservation of Queensland's Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander languages?

2. Benefits and outcome:

Are your outcomes clear? Can they be realistically delivered in the timeframe of the project? Which language groups and communities will benefit from the outcomes of this project?

3. Use of John Oxley Library collections and State Library of Queensland's Indigenous Language resources:

Which resources/collection items have been identified in the application?

4. Project goals and scope:

Is the project achievable within the timeframes taking into account accessible resources?

Is the scope of the project clear? Is the project at the beginning, middle or end of a larger project?

State Library of Queensland's Indigenous Language Project is supported by funding from the Indigenous Languages and Arts Program (ILA) from the Australian Government's Department of Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development and Communication: Office for the Arts.
