Census and muster records

What census records are available for Australia?

Prior to 2001 it was Australian federal government policy to destroy all census returns with names on them for privacy reasons. The census substitutes for Australia are the electoral rolls. See Research guide – Electoral rolls.

Some 19th century census records have survived. These are valuable tools for locating ancestors in colonial Australia. Nick Vine Hall's book Tracing Your Family History in Australia : A National Guide to Sources 3rd ed. pp. 138-147 (FAMHIS 929.394 2002) contains detailed information about dates, coverage and location of early Australian census records.

New South Wales census and muster records

General musters

Held annually between 1795 and 1825, they included all the inhabitants of the Colony. Other musters, taken more frequently and at different times, included musters of livestock, musters of convicts or musters taken specifically to include only males, females or children.

The first census of New South Wales

Held in November 1828, it is the only census to survive in full to the present day. Its aim was to record all the inhabitants of the colony at the time, and provides the individual's full name, age, place of residence, ship of arrival, occupation employer's name and place of residence.

State Library of Queensland holds the 1828 Census of NSW in the family history area, level 3. (FAMHIS 929.3 1980) and on CD-ROM (QCFS 929.394 2001).

Other printed musters and censuses held at State Library include:

- Musters and Lists, NSW and Norfolk Island 1800-1802 (FAMHIS 929.3944 1988)
- Land musters, Stock Returns and Lists, VDL 1803-1822 (FAMHIS 994.602 1991)
- Musters of NSW and Norfolk Island 1805-1806 (FAMHIS 929.394 1989)
- General Musters of NSW, Norfolk Is. and VDL, 1811 (FAMHIS 929.39944 1987)
- General Muster of NSW, 1814 (FAMHIS 929.39944 1987)
- General Muster, Land and Stock Muster of NSW, 1822 (FAMHIS 929.3944 1988)

- General Return of Convicts in NSW, 1837 (FAMHIS 929.3994 1987)

After the 1828 census, the 1841 census is the most complete of the early census records for the colony. It is held on microfilm at MFL 929.3944 199- (AO/SR reels 2222, 2223, 2508, 2509). There is an index to this census at MFL 929.3944 199- (AO/SR reels 1350, 1351, 1352). The index is also online at <https://www.records.nsw.gov.au/archives/collections-and-research/guides-and-indexes/census-1841>.

Note: Some of the above listed musters as well as the 1841 NSW census can be found on Ancestry Library Edition, available at State Library.
