

House history check list

Focus on reason for search:

Is it for renovation, genealogy, biographical search, architectural history, land use history? Use one or all, of the strategies below as appropriate.

Land title search: Lot on Plan number from Rates Notice

Not at State Library of Queensland

Department of Resources, Titles Queensland, sells and provides documents and services at:

- <https://www.titlesqld.com.au/title-searches/>
- the Museum of Lands, Mapping and Surveying: museum@dnrm.qld.gov.au

See also Useful websites for family historians >Australia & NZ> Queensland>Department of Natural resources etc

Titles will name land owners, indicate mortgages over land, easements and further subdivisions

Examine the transfers closely: what story do they tell?

Titles do not provide details of the house but mortgages often provided funding for building a house.

Maps: Find the exact block of land in context

An estate map outlines information on an estate at the time it was advertised for sale.

This could include a map of the estate with a local sketch which provides context for the area. Transport and facilities such as gas and electricity could be mentioned.

State Library of Queensland

- Estate maps, McKellar maps and other cadastral maps at State Library on level 4.
- Estate maps: red folders adjacent to delivery area on level 4 – organised by suburb
- Estate maps online: <http://onesearch.slq.qld.gov.au> In search box use “suburb name” and select options “Maps” and “SLQ digitised collections”
- Estate maps on Historypin <https://www.historypin.org/en/real-estate-maps-of-queensland/> - browse by suburb, area or street and select a map ‘pin’ to get more information about the estate.

Brisbane City Council Archives (BCC):

BCC records: 5/107-123 Muriel Ave, Skyline Business Centre, Moorooka archives@brisbane.qld.gov.au

- Brisbane City Council Water and Sewerage Maps 1917, bound volume, open access, level 4
- Brisbane records include detail plans which show footprint of the house at the time the plans were recorded; most likely source of house name.
Use map indexes to find appropriate detail plan number and then check Brisbane City Archives Detail Plans online: sewerage/water maps Brisbane suburbs: 1911-1973
Original Surveyor's field books 1911–1973 provide more information than the detail plans but require a visit to Brisbane City Archives.
Mainly cover inner, older suburbs. Use detail plan number to locate. There is a cost.

Builders

Brisbane City Council Archives Building Registers: alphabetical by street – gives name of owners, and whether Worker's Dwelling or State Advances Corporation was involved. Sometimes gives builder's name. Annotations show if it is a new building or an addition.

- Brisbane City Archives Register of Building Records – online 1903 – 1925 inner city, north of the river only; original Brisbane Council area.
https://library-brisbane.ent.sirsidynix.net.au/client/en_AU/BrisbaneImages/ > Building records > Building records 1903-September 1925

https://library-brisbane.ent.sirsidynix.net.au/client/en_AU/BrisbaneImages/ > Building records > Building Registers October 1925-1945
Registers are missing for the years: 1939 (index only) and there are no extant records for the period Sept 1934-January 1936 and April-Dec 1937.
Entries are handwritten, chronological by address with owner's name, cost, type of building and name of architect if any. The landowner's name is needed to confirm it's the right building. See BCC online guidance at site. The date in the register records is approval date so construction was soon after. Check for an index first.

https://library-brisbane.ent.sirsidynix.net.au/client/en_AU/BrisbaneImages/ > Building records > Building Register Indexes October 1925-1943
Entries are generally arranged alphabetically by street name (except for 1942 which is by owner's name) and include: owners name, and reference number to the entry in the main building register which can then be tracked back to the main register.
